

The 2005 Particle Accelerator Conference, the 21st in this series, will be hosted by Oak Ridge National Laboratory (ORNL) and Thomas Jefferson National Accelerator Facility (JLab). The event is being organized by the PAC05 Organizing Committee.

This conference will cover new developments in all aspects of the science, technology, and use of accelerators. The conference is open to the public, and all individuals with an interest in particle accelerators are invited to register and attend. Approximately 1000 attendees are anticipated, and more than 800 papers are expected to be presented. Those papers will be presented as contributed and invited talks and posters.

This conference is being held under the joint auspices of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, through its Nuclear and Plasma Sciences Society, and the American Physical Society, through its Division of Physics of Beams. PAC05 is supported in part by the U.S. Department of Energy, the National Science Foundation, and the Office of Naval Research.

The PAC05 Conference Chair is Norbert Holtkamp, ORNL, and the Program Committee Chair is Swapan Chattopadhyay, JLab.
